Must Show Unusual Strength,
as Scores Are Close.

With the Towers, North Capitol, and Virginia Avenue Playgrounds teams more closely bunched in preliminary scores than ever before on the eve of the final tournament and play festival, the Schriver, the Which is to be held this afternoon at the Union League baseball grounds under Union League baseball grounds under the auspices of the Washington Playgrounds Association, the many events E. Barron, grounds Association, the many events E. Process grounds Association, the many events are expected to bring out some exciting finishes.

It is not expected that the winning team which will be presented with the championship banner offered by The Times will have any easy time of it, but that the final results will be close.

The entry lists show that more than 600 grade school children have qualified S. Taylor, for this final test. This number includes those who will take part in the various athletic events, dances, and ring games, and the spectacle should be of unusual interest. Probably the most interesting event on the program will be the games and dances of the smaller F. Riley, C. Hidren, which will begin promptly at C. Essex, en, which will begin promptly at C. Kendig winners Go in Special Car.

All the winners of last year's events will be taken to the grounds in a special car, and the winners of this year's events will take the places of the former at the conclusion of the program and A. A gratifying feature of this year's of the association is the large number of pupils who have passed the standard test of the Public School Ath letic League of New York, which is in vogue in Washington. Where three years ago Mr. Curtis, upon first taking up his duties here, found that not one could stand the test, 42 will receive the could stand the test, 42 will receive the championship button for passing the test.

Those eligible to compete in this test are divided into two classes of boys under thirteen years old, and those under stxteen. The requirements for those under thirteen is that during competition they run sixty yards in 8½, seconds or under; that they "pull up" four times on the weights, and that they do 5 feet 9 inches or more in the standing broad jump. For boys under sixteen the tests are as follows: 100-yard dash in 13 3-5 seconds; "pull up" six times, and standing broad jump 6 feet 6 inches. Those who have met with these requirements and will be presented with buttons at the conclusion of today's townsment are:
